Relax and enjoy...

In this, the Spring/Summer '75 edition of our Gifts & Gear catalog, we are pleased to present a greater-than-ever variety of equipment, specialties, and informal wear designed to enhance your every leisure hour. We have selected all items with an eye to quality, practicability and style. And whether you are shopping for yourself, or for some special gift, we think you will find it easy to order from this catalog by mail. There is a convenient order form bound into the center of the book, and you may be assured that your mail orders will receive prompt, courteous attention. And, of course, every purchase is backed with Chris-Craft's unconditional guarantee of your satisfaction.

PRICES: Please note—The prices quoted in this catalog supersede those quoted in all prior issues as of March 24, 1975. Prices quoted in this catalog are guaranteed to remain the same through September 1975, or until the issuance of our next catalog, whichever shall come earlier.

For convenience...for emergency...a bright, versatile and completely portable battery operated fluorescent light.

You'll find a hundred uses for bright portable Tote-A-Lite—boating, camping, fishing, driving, or around the home, office or factory. Tote-A-Lite provides a cool, trouble-free light source—the equivalent of a 60-watt incandescent bulb—from a self-contained battery pack, or from the cigarette lighter socket of your boat or car. Snapped onto its portable battery pack the fluorescent tube is handily toted where needed by a convenient shoulder strap. Self-standing, too, to allow you a free hand whatever the task; or remove the light to the limit of its 15-foot cord for use in hard to get to places. Three snap-on translucent sleeves change the white light to red or amber, and there's a reflector sleeve to concentrate the beam in any direction. Smokeless, flameless, safe, long lasting. Tote-A-Lite comes with batteries (two easily replaced, standard 6-volt lantern batteries).

Be sure to read the fine print.

It might just help you avoid taking a wrong turn, calling a wrong number, selling the wrong stock, or running aground where the chart reads '3' and not '8' as it might appear to the unaided eye. This pocket-size Illuminating Magnifier sheds its own light where you need it most. Its 5-power lens, coupled with a brilliant light beam magnifies with astonishing, shadow-free clarity. Ideal for reading road maps at night, for navigating when the pilot house is blacked out, for stamp and coin collectors, for close-up inspections of all kinds. Just 2" square, weighing only 1½ ounces, complete with its easily replaced penlite batteries, the Illuminating Magnifier is easy to carry or stash in pocket, purse, desk or glove compartment. With leatherette pocket case; gift-boxed.

With the new Optical Tape Measure you can calculate size, height, or distance without moving an inch.

And it doesn't take two to measure. One person alone, without the need for another to hold the tape, can quickly and conveniently make measurements up to 100 feet away. It's especially useful in areas not easily measured with a conventional tape...no climbing or awkward maneuvering, no need to move obstacles. Easy to use; just sight any object through the viewfinder; then turn the focusing dial into the double image of the object merges into one. A glance at the indicator gives you the distance in feet and/or inches, 99.2% accurate to 25 feet, 97.8% to 100 feet. Ideal for home owners, estimators, engineers, appraisers, and do-it-yourselfers. Sturdy and durable, with shock-mounted components in rugged Cycloc housing, the Optical Tape Measure comes with a deluxe pocket carrying case, and 5-year warranty.

Time-keeping in depth...Zodiac 'Sea Wolf' watches for men and women.

The most exacting requirements of the skin-diving and outdoors enthusiast have been built into the Zodiac 'Sea Wolf' watches. Unsurpassed in accuracy and dependability, developed to withstand stresses far beyond that of ordinary timepieces, the Sea Wolf is one of three watches officially approved by the U.S. Navy for use by its frogmen. The self-winding, 17-jewel shock-protected Swiss movement is enclosed in a stainless steel case, water resistant to a depth of 660 feet. Exact second-setting feature, rotating timing bezel calibrated in minutes, and highly luminous hands and markers enhance the Sea Wolf's versatility. Men's Sea Wolf has automatic day-and-date calendar with push button date changer; smaller Ladies' model had automatic calendar; both come with adjustable link stainless bands.

Here's a binocular that won't be in its case on a faraway shelf when you want to use it. Small—it folds to tuck into a breast pocket—whisper weight—less than 5 ounces—it's never a burden, a joy to have with you at all times to bring what you want to see 8 times closer. A small miracle of precise mechanics and optics, it's a glass that incorporates the most accurately computed lenses and prisms, T-coated, ground and polished with utmost precision to meet the very high quality standards which Zeiss lays down for its products. Fiberglass reinforced housing sealed against dust and humidity, efficiently protects the optical components against shock. 8 x 20; field of view 120m. at 1000m. With soft Morocco leather case.

#778. Zeiss Pocket Size Binocular $159.00 ④

Also available as a monocular, with identical optics, that can be clipped on a pocket, just like a pen. Weighs just 2½ oz.

CLOSER LOOK

The most rugged binocular... it's rubber armored. And waterproof...shockproof...dustproof.

At sea or on safari...through North Atlantic gale or desert dust storm...this is the binocular that will survive and keep on serving. It's fully seawater protected, and with its virtually indestructible Macrolon casing and resilient rubber 'armor' it will stand up to shocks and knocks—no need to worry if you drop it on a fiberglass deck, if it gets soaking wet, even if it should fall under the wheels of a Landrover. 7-power by 50, individual focus—the size and style of binocular almost universally accepted as a standard by the world's navies and merchant fleets because of its steadiness of image and superior light gathering properties—a vital plus for night viewing. Splendid optical qualities bring the wide viewing field (400 feet at 1,000 yards) close aboard with sharp, distortion-free clarity; fold-down rubber eye cups accommodate eyeglass wearers. 3-year guarantee.

#875. Rubber protected Binoculars $209.00 ⑤

Neither splash nor splashdown will faze these fantastic seagoing binoculars—they're waterproof...shockproof...they'll float!

So rugged and care-free you won't hesitate to let the kids or your most butter-fingered guests use them! Full 8 power, with 30mm light gathering lens and a wide sports field of view...394' at 1000 yards. Optically excellent too...four hard-coated prisms, ten hard-coated lenses locked and sealed in a stronger-than-steel Fiberglass body that makes this the toughest standard size binocular ever developed. Yet it weighs just 12 ounces...you can keep it draped around your neck all day and hardly know it's there. Measures just 4" x 6½"—coat pocket size, great for spectator sports. Comes with neck strap and unique binocular bikini that covers all four lenses for full protection against dust or dirt. Full year warranty.

New PortaScope Field Kit—magnifier cum laude.

This exciting new PortaScope Field Kit combines removable, powerful fiberglass binoculars with a sensitive field microscope. As a field microscope for the student and nature buff, it provides 16-power magnification...lets you examine rocks, salt crystals, human cells—takes you into the tiny world of insect and plant life where the head of a dragonfly looks like a monster from outer space, and the veins on a leaf look like mountain ridges. For the hobbyist, PortaScope lets you see and compare the infinitesimal differences between stamps or coins, etc...that make one more valuable than another. You can even take micro-photos of what you are examining with most popular cameras! And when not in use as a microscope, you can remove the powerful, rugged, waterproof 8 x 30 binoculars to use on your boat, to take into the field, to follow the action of your favorite sport.

Kit includes microscope, binoculars, dissecting kit (tweezers, spatula, three clear plastic boxes for carrying and observing specimens), camera adapter ring, binocular neck strap and handsome carrying case.

Swinging people feeder.

Just right for that quick nibble at shipboard or shoreside cocktail parties, this one-armed diet destroyer neatly parcels out everything from peanuts or pistachios to sunflower seeds or mints. Each pre-set serving is dispensed directly into the hand by a downward tilt of the plastic globe; after which the globe swings upright and reloads automatically for the next "feeding". Stands on table, or mounts on wall; quickly comes apart for easy cleaning.

Summer cooler. This compact 12-Volt Fan oscillates to move a cooling breeze to every corner of the cabin.

There's nothing wrong with sea breezes, except that on some days they don't reach into the cabin, the galley, the head. This efficient little fan keeps air on the move—helps keep windows and windshields from fogging, too. Pull a knob and the fan swings back and forth, 90°, to distribute air evenly; or you can push in the knob, tilt up or down to blow in any direction you wish. Reverse the plug and it becomes an exhaust fan to blow smoke, stale air, cooking odors, out through ports of hatches. High efficiency magnet motor, turning on frictionless bearings, will provide seasons of trouble-free operation; closely spaced safety guards insure maximum safety. Comes with 8-ft. cord, remote on-off switch; draws only .8 amps.

Air pump action fills your cup or glass from this ingenious vacuum jug.

Everest AirPot will carry an ample liquid cargo—over a half-gallon—and keep it piping hot or frosty cold for many hours. Since, once filled, it need not be opened to pour, the temperature of the contents is maintained far longer than in other type containers. Much handier, too, with no need to lift, no chance to spill—the patented mechanism uses air pressure to release controlled quantities of the beverage. Exterior is rugged metal, in choice of attractive walnut or floral design; easy-tote handle, lid, stopper and revolving “lazy susan” bottom are tough plastic.

Better burgers by the minute.

Minute Burger is a new, no-fuss, time-saving way of cooking America's most popular sandwich—the hamburger. It cooks hamburgers in 1 to 3 minutes, depending on individual taste for “doneness”. What's more, it heats sandwiches, toasts English muffins and cooks cube steaks, too. Because the cover locks into place, all cooking is spatterless. And cleanup is quick too; the cooking tray and drip pan immerse, and the cover wipes clean. The hard-surface lining prevents food from sticking. Compact size makes it easily portable, great for use on the boat, the patio, in dorm room or family room as well as the kitchen. 120V. AC, draws only 400 watts.

For the open-water sailor, there's a world of assurance in this Emergency Position Indicating Radio Beacon.

For boats that operate more than 20 miles offshore, this new Andrews MRB-510 Marine Rescue Beacon offers a significant measure of safety and security. Always ready for instant use, the transmitter, when activated by extending the antenna and flicking a toggle switch, broadcasts an internationally recognized distress signal on aviation emergency frequencies 121.5 Mhz and 243.0 Mhz. Coverage is over an area of more than 32,000 square miles, well beyond the surface line-of-sight range of typical marine VHF transmitters. These frequencies are constantly monitored by commercial, general, government and military aircraft and are used to direct search and rescue planes to the site of downed aircraft and vessels in distress. Completely waterproof, the MRB-510 floats upright and has its own self-contained battery pack that will provide a strong signal for 48 continuous hours. A stainless steel bale handle permits attachment of a lanyard to secure the transmitter to belt or raft. A red pilot light enables you to see that the transmitter is working properly. Built by NARCO, one of the world's largest manufacturers of sophisticated electronics for general aviation, the modest cost of the MRB-510 is a worthwhile investment in safety and peace of mind for all offshore boating, power and sail.

Time, Weather, Entertainment—the AM/FM Timetran Weathermatic Radio brings you all three.

It's a miniature communications center that brings you entertainment, of course—the best of music, news and sports on AM and FM. But perhaps even more important to boatmen, it keeps you continuously current on weather outlook and precise navigational time. Just push the Timetran button and hear the official U.S. Government time broadcast. Push the Weathermatic button and you receive instant local area weather reports provided 24 hours a day by the U.S. Government weather service. Operates on batteries (4 "C" cells) or AC.

Now we can really get organized.

One of life's little mysteries is the ease with which such adjuncts to good living as books, records and tapes scatter themselves to the far corners of the house (or boat), some, perhaps, never to be heard, or heard of again. Now, we think we've found the answer to conserving and preserving these precious possessions—good-looking, space-saving plastic racks, handsomely and sturdily made of polished smoke tone walls, with crystal clear supporting bars.

#3327. Book rack. Holds up to 10 paperbacks, or 8 hard-cover volumes. Holds opened books for reference, recipes, navigation tables, etc. 7 1/2" x 6" x 7" deep. $7.50 ②

#3328. Record rack. Holds up to 50 LP's securely. Sliding locking rings keep fewer records straight and in place. 7 1/2" x 11 1/2" x 13 1/4" deep. $11.95 ③

#3329. 8-Track rack. Holds 16 8-track tape cartridges. Fully modular—you can stack 2 or 3 units high. Tapes are held at easy viewing angle, so you can tell your Bach from your rock. $9.95 ③

This innovative new tackle box has slide-out drawers for easier selection, easier handling.

No need now to find a large clear deck area to spread open your tackle box. This crisply styled case has a drop-front panel, allowing quick access to 2 pull-out trays. (The box also cantilevers fully open to reveal entire contents). Overall size is 16 1/8" x 9 3/8" x 9 1/4", with plenty of room under the trays for carrying reels and other bulky tackle. Drawers and tray are plastic bait-proof. Box features include continuous, full length hinges front and back, large drawbolt latch, recessed handle, rust-proof hardware, watertight construction, with 29 ribbed compartments in the 3 trays.

Hand held portable fish finder/depth sounder.

Now, even if you're just an occasional week-end fisherman, you can enjoy the benefits of sonar depth sounding in your own small boat—or even a rented boat. The Fish Hawk 600 is totally self-contained—with unique one-piece design that means there's no separate transducer to mount, no suction cups, no wires to hook up. Just place the transducer in the water and press the button for instant depth readings! With an 80 foot depth range, the Fish Hawk searches bottom contours, finds drop-offs, pot holes and brush piles, registers on an easy-to-read meter. Hand-held, portable, its solid-state circuitry operates on two 9-V. transistor batteries, is electronically sealed against moisture.

This versatile Rod Holder requires no permanent installation.

It clamps securely on either horizontal rails or vertical stanchions, holds rods securely while trolling or still fishing. Made of heavy chromed manganese bronze, it mounts with shaped high impact styrene blocks, between chromed bronze plates, that clamp tightly to the rail or stanchion. The rodholder can be moved to another location or removed without marking the rail, and the angle at which it is mounted is adjustable. A rubber inset protects the rod butt against mars and scratches. Made in two sizes, for 7/8" or 1" O.D. rail.

For work or play...our own version of the old Navy work shirt, with a dashing new look.

We've taken the down-to-sea comfort and practicality of the traditional Navy garment, built them into this handsome new all-sport shirt, and added features the Navy brass may just wish it had thought of. Like the epaulettes that do more than just add a note of military snap—they're a most practical means of slip-free, shoulder-toting of binoculars or camera. And the extra-deep, button-flap pockets that'll let you bend over without fear of pitching your specs into the drink. And the comfortably long, side-vented, straight-cut bottom that can be worn outside or tucked in. Made of top quality, faded-blue denim in a no-iron fifty/fifty blend of Fortrel polyester and cotton, it'll sail right out of the washer/dryer wrinkle-free and ready for duty. Sizes S (14-14 $\frac{1}{2}$), M (15-15 $\frac{1}{2}$), L (16-16 $\frac{1}{2}$), XL (17-17 $\frac{1}{2}$).

If you're the type that likes to know not only how hard the wind is blowing now—but how hard it blew when you weren't looking—the Vigilant anemometer is for you.

That Vigilant is a superb instrument for measuring present wind velocity, (from 1-100 mph) is vouchsafed by its unmatched 5-year warranty but its intriguing and exclusive other feature is a patented Gust Register (shown at 54 on dial in illustration) that moves to, and stays at, the maximum wind velocity during any period between settings. Precise testing, adjustment and calibration of each instrument before leaving the factory insures guaranteed accuracy to plus or minus 3% of full scale. For masthead or shore installation, the precision, balance-molded spinning cup assembly is made of virtually shatterproof, ultra-violet inhibited Lexan, which with its self-contained generator weighs less than 4 ounces, and offers just 1 1/2 lbs. of wind load at 100 mph. Entirely self-powered, requires no batteries. Handsome 6 1/2" diam. case is polished brass, with contrasting silver and black indicator dial. Advanced degrees... (of temperature, that is), in this fascinating new direct reading indoor thermometer.

This new accessory for home or office, for boat or summer cottage is sure to become a topic of conversation. Big, easy-to-read numbers show room temperature at a glance. Numbers appear, change colors and disappear almost mystically as temperatures go up and down. The secret of DigiGuide's action is liquid crystal technology developed from U.S. space and military research programs. Pods of liquid crystals sensitive to various temperatures back each set of digits from 62 to 84F. When temperature corresponds to the digits, they begin to reflect light so that the digits may be seen, while other digits fade out. Unique fluted tube design case in soft silvery finish is anodized aluminum. 8" long, it stands 2 3/4" high on black aluminum base.

Sun Time—Moon Time. Two novel clocks mark the hours in true celestial fashion.

Mark each shining hour.

Follow the sun on the Sun Timer, a modern day version of that most ancient of timepieces, the sundial. A true equatorial sundial, the Sun Timer tells daylight time anywhere on earth—it can be quickly and accurately adjusted for any latitude. Wherever you are, you'll enjoy the fascination of watching the sun's shadow creeping across the hour markings on the dial. Take it to poolside with you for an energy-less and waterproof clock... place it in a sunny spot on your patio as a conversation piece at cocktail time... set it indoors in a sunny window by your plants that live by the sun. The "today" face of the Sun Timer is 1/2" thick acrylic, 6" square, tastefully embossed in red, blue and black markings.

Time and tide wait for no man—here's a clock that tells you where it is.

This new Tide Timer tells you at a glance the precise, present stage of the tide—high, low, rising, falling, the amount of time until the next change, etc. Its accurate, battery-powered jewelled movement is timed to the tides themselves, not to the sun and moon. The large, easy to read 6" x 6" face, with its prominent, single, tide range indicator hand is legible from a distance; made of acrylic and brushed aluminum it will stand on counter, desk, mantel or can be wall-hung. Can be used along the U.S. Eastern Seaboard or anywhere else where there are two complete tidal cycles daily, and a great gift idea for seaside homeowners, fishermen, clammers, scuba types as well as boatmen.

METEOROLOGICALLY SPEAKING

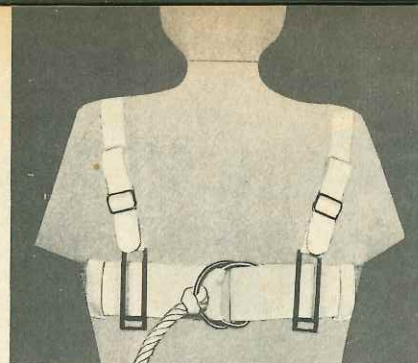

Up-tight about noisy, slapping halyards? With Up-Tite silencers, halyards will be seen—and not heard.

Be good to your neighbors at anchorage or marina—and to yourself and your own crew as well.

Eliminate the noisy tattoo of halyards banging against the mast with this ingeniously simple device. Just hook one end of the Up-Tite silencer around the halyard, and the other end around the shroud, and take a strain on the halyard; the Up-Tite will ride up the shroud on its pulleys and hold the halyard well away from the mast, much higher than you could possibly reach. When you're ready to get under way, just slack off the halyard and the Up-Tite rolls back down the shroud to you. Much more effective, and easier to use and retrieve than conventional shock-cord tie-offs. Made of strong, high-tensile Cycloc, Up-Tites come in pairs packed in a see-through vinyl storage pouch.

By sight and by sound, Sailometer helps achieve maximum sailboat performance.

Sailometer, a precision small-sailboat speedometer is highly accurate for use in navigating, boat tuning and sail trimming. The registering meter, linear scaled from 0 to 15 knots, is a sophisticated magnetic tachometer; external parts are tough, durable, non-corrosive plastics. Of particular advantage to the racing sailor is Sailometer's 'sound trim' feature—a unique sound generator which produces audible clicks whose pitch varies with speed changes. Gain or loss of speed can thus be "heard", allowing the skipper to trim by sound—keeping his eyes on the sails, not the instrument. Sound trim has off-lo-hi switch control. Requiring no thru-hull drilling, Sailometer can be stern mounted or hand held. For transoms up to 3-feet, the low drag spinner extends to 6-feet, removes and stores in 40 inches.

For better racing and cruising, make sure your rigging is balanced and tuned.

And it's easy to make sure with Tension Meter. This simple snap-on gauge enables you to quickly measure and adjust the tension of stays and shrouds; your sails will set better, and drive better on a precisely tuned mast. You can experiment to obtain the optimum setting, and once the rig is set the way you want it, you can always check to keep it that way. A practical aid for the skippers of small boats as well as large, it fits wire size from 3/32" to 3/16", which includes most rigging in use on yachts today. Comes with detailed instructions for use in tuning.

Chris-Craft C-treds for leisure wear

Chris-Craft C-Treds bring to boating shoes the excitement of new styling...up-to-date colors...beautiful suede or twill uppers...superb quality. And the first really all-new deck sole in years...live-action gum soles with hundreds of rubber "fingers" surrounded by air space, that grip the deck solidly the moment they touch the surface...soles that won't pick up or hold deck-marring sand and gravel. Plus little things that add up to wearability and comfort...a new "nature last" which fits the natural foot contour, deep cushioned insoles, molded foam and arch supports, European padded ankle and contoured heels, terry-cloth inners, so that they can be comfortably worn without socks. More than providing "safe conduct" on wet or sloping decks at sea—Chris-Craft C-Treds lend an updated fashion flair to casual wear ashore, as well. Available in contemporary colors in genuine suede, as well as traditional canvas twill, C-Treds are presented in size ranges for both men and women.

The Lark Permatic® packs some pleasant surprises; it's big when you need it, small when you don't!

Unlike heavy rigid luggage, the Lark Permatic® gives you valuable extra room both on the road and back at home base. It measures just 23" x 17" x 17½". But it can hold as much clothes, shoes, odds and ends as you can carry. And probably more. You can pack it full when you're traveling. Or fold it practically flat, out of the way, when you're not. And whether you're traveling by boat, car, plane or train, the Permatic® can really take it. Under its elegant nylon exterior, the Permatic® owes its great capacity and remarkable strength to its unique construction. A tough but pliant outer covering, coil spring frames and magnesium plates make it flexible, not rigid...and oh, so light! Inside you'll find a surprisingly luxurious lining. A snap-in accessory kit with two separate waterproof compartments. And special restraining straps that help keep your belongings from tumbling out when you open the bag for airline or customs inspections. It closes with a rugged, heavy-duty double-tab zipper. The tabs fit into a special lock—snap the lock over the tabs and there's no way a would-be thief can tamper with the zipper. A traveling companion you'll treasure for a lifetime!

Makes the night brighter and safer.

A practical and versatile emergency and utility light, this powerful sealed beam lamp plugs into a cigarette lighter receptacle on boat or car. Clear lens can be used as a powerful beam spot, or as a work light. Red lens snap on to convert it to a warning and distress beacon. To eliminate kinking, the extra-long 12 foot cord quickly rolls up inside the housing. Finger grip handle makes it easy to hold, or it can be clipped onto the belt or slid over a car door. Great for boats, too...with red lens in place, it can be used for cabin or chart table illumination without disturbance of night vision.

Damp-Away Dehumidifier gets the wet out of the air—helps control excessive moisture in boat cabins, lockers and heads.

Damp-Away Dehumidifier is an extremely efficient air dryer that actually absorbs moisture from the air like a magnet and deposits it right into the Damp-Away container. It lasts for months; each package will absorb 250 cubic feet of moisture; as moisture collects in the container, just pour it off and use it again and again. Protects gear against mildew, mold, warping or rust. Completely odorless, non-toxic and non-allergenic.

In the dark?
The 40,000
candlepower ray of this Mariner's Beam Gun goes a long way to dispel night's hazards.

When it's urgent to know what lies ahead—to check channel markers or avoid obstructions—the quarter-mile ray of our Mariner's Beam Gun will provide needed night sight and assurance. And it's a great diving light—stainless steel grommet ring keeps it watertight to depths of 200 feet. A convenient wrist lanyard makes it hard to lose, but even if it should go overboard it will float beam upward. Sealed beam in tough polypropylene case with non-sparking safety switch.

#262. Mariner's Beam Gun, with battery $25.95 ④

Our handsome, reversible C-Floater jacket won't let you down.
It's a coat for all seasons—hunting, fishing, skiing, as well as boating.

A lifesaver—for real—as well as a warm, handsome comfortable jacket, the C-Floater can be worn as casually on ship or shore as any other weather protective jacket. But in a 'man-overboard' situation, it will keep its wearer afloat indefinitely. C-Floater's warmth and flotation are provided by a remarkably thin insulating layer of closed cell vinyl foam. No unnecessary bulk impedes freedom of action, and rips or punctures will not impair its extraordinary flotation properties. The nylon shell is reversible—high-visibility orange for sea, rich blue for shore. Parka hood furls neatly and smoothly into collar; nylon heavy-duty zipper. An exclusive Chris-Craft design. Men's S, M, L, XL. Women's S, M, L.

#279. C-Floater Jacket $42.50 ④

U.S.C.G. Approved Chris-Craft Safety Vest with exclusive styling, comfort and night visibility features.

It's for cruising, sailing, fishing, water-skiing—for all active water sports. And because it can be comfortably worn without restricting freedom of movement, you and your crew are more apt to be wearing it if ever it is needed. Soft, flexible, not bulky, it can be worn over or under sweater or foul weather gear. Styled with a flair, expressly for Chris-Craft, these vests have an exclusive and important night visibility feature—light-reflective striping sewed down the front that will unmistakably flash back the ray of a searching spotlight to help effect rescue in a man-overboard situation. Ruggedly constructed for durability, the Chris-Craft safety vest cannot lose its flotation properties even if cut or punctured, is fully Coast Guard approved for boats up to 40 feet. Outer case in navy nylon as shown, with broad red stripe and light reflective gold striping. In sizes S, M, L/XL, each individually adjustable for perfect fit.

No Navy or Merchant Marine vessel would put to sea
without a proper Heaving Line aboard. You shouldn't either.

The fastest, surest way of getting a line to the dock, or to another vessel is by bending it on the end of a properly made-up Heaving Line. Ours is 45-foot long, hand-tied and spliced, with weighted monkey's fist on the end for accurate heaving. Made up of 1/4" diam., first quality Polypropylene rope, with 1300 lb. break strength, and it floats. Another use: as an anchor-trip and marker line.

Can an electric drill be used where there are no electrical outlets? The new Versa Drill can!

You can use the Versa Drill in your boat, at anchor or under way, or in your car or camper in the canebreak. This new power drill needs no 110 volt power line, because it works off your boat, car, or any other 12-volt battery. Reversible, self-lubricating, the Versa Drill delivers ample power to drill through fiberglass and metal, as well as wood, yet draws no more current than windshield wipers. Housed in a slim, high-impact case it can be used on jobs where there isn't even room to use an ordinary drill. It has a finger tightening chuck, and takes all accessories designed for a 1/4" drill, such as power screwdrivers, hole saws, grinding wheels, etc. The ideal power tool for a wide variety of jobs, it is especially useful around boats where AC electrical tools may be dangerous.

Instructions for Ordering by Mail

Please include check or money order in payment of merchandise ordered, plus transportation and handling charges. We regret that we cannot handle C.O.D. orders. (For delivery within the State of Michigan, include applicable sales tax.)

Transportation and Handling Charges

Transportation and handling charges (including insurance) are based upon shipping weight and insured value of merchandise ordered. Each catalog item has a shipping key number enclosed in a circle next to its price, i.e. (1), (3), etc. When order is completed, merely add up the shipping key numbers of ordered items, and multiply the sum by 25c to obtain the shipping charge. Thus, if the shipping key numbers total 8, the shipping charge to add would be $2.00. The minimum shipping and handling charge is $1.00. Items marked (X) exceed the weight or bulk limitations of Parcel Post or United Parcel; these will be shipped via REA Express, charges collect.

You can use your BankAmericard or Master Charge Credit Cards when ordering by mail or phone.

How not to get caught with your batteries down.

Keep close tabs on your car or boat batteries—plus the charging system—the easy way, with this plug-in tester. No need to lift boat engine hatches or car hood, nothing to install; simply plug this patented new Electrical Tester into your cigarette lighter receptacle and learn at a glance not only how much charge you have in the battery, but whether the battery is good, weak or defective and whether the engine's generator/alternator regulator system is functioning properly. Solid state circuitry and jewelled D'Arsonval movement give precision readout on full color scales; dial is lighted to make it easy to read, even at night.

#3211. Battery Tester $11.95 ①

This new solid-state charger will keep your boat batteries at full peak without attention—with no danger of overcharge.

It's the ideal charger for batteries that are left unattended for extended periods—as in boats. All you need do is hook up this fully automatic charger and turn it on. When battery reaches full charge, the charging current shuts off—automatically and completely. Then, should a load be placed on the battery, the charger will automatically turn itself on and supply the rate of charge needed—from a trickle to full-rated capacity—until the battery is back to maximum charge. There's absolutely no danger of battery damage from overcharging, as can happen with ordinary taper chargers. For 12-volt batteries; maximum charging rate, 6 amps, with accurate numeral dial ammeter on front of the case. Size, just 9 3/8" x 6" x 6 1/2".

Electronic Flashing Strobolite blinks out a full-circle signal beam of up to one million peak candlepower.

You'll feel safer cruising at night with this 200,000 candlepower, half-mile spotlight at hand.

It's a whole new concept in marine spotlights. This hand-held light, more powerful than most deck-mounted searchlights, will throw a brilliant 200,000 candlepower beam deep into the darkness to reveal, a half-mile or more ahead, channel markers, docks, moorings, aids or hazards to navigation. And it will look the same in five years as the day you put it into service. Molded of rugged neoprene, it's shockproof and waterproof. Can't corrode, rust or dent. It will even float. Hand-held for action use, it permits a quick sweep bow or stern, on either beam. Eight feet of coiled stretch cord plugs into unique 12-volt waterproof outlet fitting. (It's also available with standard cigarette lighter plug.) When you're not on board you can unplug and store it in a safe place to prevent theft. To study or practice the fascinating art of navigation—two practical, low-cost sextants to fit the needs of the professional, the amateur, or the student navigator.

Mark 3 Standard Marine Sextant, of rugged high impact plastic is a real working, precision instrument that could be (and has been) used for navigating ships through any of the world's oceans; its vernier adjustment reads to within 2 minutes of arc. Even for those who never cruise out of sight of land, a sextant can be a most useful piloting instrument, something which too few boatmen realize. It can be used as a pelorus, for example, and for determining distance by measuring angles, and as a heliograph. Includes 4 sun shades and instruction booklet.

#384. Mark 3 Standard Sextant $17.95 ②

Mark 12 Master Marine Sextant is a splendid precision instrument providing fixtures you'd expect to find only in far more expensive sextants. Features such as the 3-power sighting telescope, full 2-mirror adjustment that allows instant alignment, a horizon mirror that is carefully "half-silvered" to give proper image placement, and 7 sunshades that permit complete, independent shading for horizon and index mirrors. Vernier reads to 2 minutes of arc—interpolation allows for even finer reading. Sturdy enough for a lifetime of seagoing use, corrosion and impact resistant, the Mark 12 comes with all-weather carrying case, and information booklet describing how to find your position anywhere on earth.

The Rangematic Distance Finder measures distance off without the need to know height or size of object.

The first and only hand-held ranging instrument that accurately measures the distance to any object or landmark—from mooring buoy to ocean liner—without the need to know target size. When dial is turned so image is sharp, a pre-computed scale gives direct read-out in yards of distances from object up to 2 miles away. Removable 6-power sighting scope is handy for buoy identification and examination of distant objects. Waterproof, shockproof, warranted for 2 years.

Look...one-hand dividers!

Much in demand, and hard to find, these are the famous English one-hand dividers knowledgeable navigators swear by. These unique dividers can be opened and closed with one hand while performing your chart work. The top curved part is of brass, and the tapered parts are stainless steel. Seven inch overall length.

Eye Opener for Navigators.

It's the Bino Compass, a brilliantly designed British instrument that makes visual bearings easier and more reliable at long ranges. Small enough to fit in the palm of the hand, and weighing only 3½ oz., it fits instantly to ordinary 50mm (7 x 50, 10 x 50) binoculars and projects a large compass scale across the field without interfering with the view. With built-in, switch-on glare-free light system to illuminate the compass card, Bino Compass gives bearings accurate to +1°, day or night. It can be quickly detached and used by itself as a hand-bearing compass. Fully guaranteed.

Fog or fatigue can't blur the homing instinct of this Automatic R.D.F.

The moderately priced Ray Jeff '6150' does everything that much more expensive units do. It's portable, it's automatic, it's fast and it's accurate. No guesswork...the Automatic Direction Finder automatically seeks the signal source and gives the true direction of the signal instantly. A rugged, practical four-band unit, the Ray Jeff '6150' provides navigational fixes on the AM Marine, AM Broadcast and Beacon bands. Monitors FM weather and Marine transmissions on VHF/FM, provides standard AM reception, includes full BFO/SSB capability and will monitor Consolan signals on the beacon band. Weighing less than 10 pounds, the '6150' features the latest in solid state, transistorized circuitry with slide rule tuning for sharp accurate station selection. Operates on 8 self-contained flashlight cells.

The tamer of the charts.

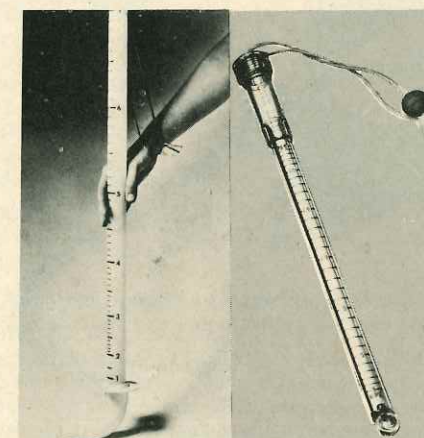

Navigation charts, especially the government's Small Craft cruising series, give every evidence of having a diabolical will of their own, when it comes to not staying open at the proper section, streaming out in every breeze and in general distracting the attention of the pilot away from what has to be done. This new Chris-Craft Nav. Station Chart Holder tames the errant chart, keeps it in place at the helmsman seat, and shields it from the breezes. Made of sturdy lucite, it displays a complete page section of a standard chart where it can be consulted at a glance when piloting. Attaches easily to seat frame or arm rest of helmsman's chair. Invaluable for flying-bridge navigation.

Mini Compass gives you really accurate bearings fast—day or night.

In our experience there's no finer or easier to use hand-bearing instrument than the Mini-Compass. For precise readings, the single-degree markings of the compass card are viewed through a prism, ten-times magnified. And because of outstandingly efficient damping, a series of bearings can be taken very quickly in conditions when ordinary compasses would be useless. At night when fixes become more crucial, yet more difficult to obtain accurately, the advantages of the Mini-Compass are even more marked. The permanent, built-in Tritium-gas radiation light performs at full efficiency without batteries or other maintenance throughout the life of the compass; and without the need to align a hair line, the bearing of a flashing light can be read off instantaneously as it appears above the magnified scale. Weighing only 3¼ oz., Mini-Compass can be kept on a neck lanyard comfortably handy for instant use; a heavy-duty all-around rubber collar protects it against damage.

Now everybody can know how fast his boat is going.

These two small craft speedometers—one for power craft, and one for sail—are portable and require no installation. You just hold them over the side with the inlet head submerged, and read the boat speed directly.

The Speedwand (right), for outboard or inboard runabout or the small cruiser, measures boat speeds from 5 to 35 mph, giving accurate readings within 1 mph. Made of heavy duty plastic, Speedwand can be used in fresh or salt water—nothing to rust, wear out, or get out of order.

#985. Speedwand $5.95 ②

The Davis/Sims Sailboat Speedometer (left), obtains reliable speed measurements instantly, reading from 0-7 knots in 1/10 knot increments. Tested for accuracy by Stevens Institute, it is ideal for racing...it can't foul or cause needless drag...you use it only when needed to determine small speed changes resulting from, or requiring changes in sail trim. Sturdy, semi-rigid plastic; fully guaranteed.

Find yourself! Quickly locate and chart your position with the aid of the low-priced Quick-Sight Bearing Compass.

Used from any point aboard your craft, it gives you a direct magnetic bearing instantly, on any identifiable charted objects; no need to correlate with heading on boat's steering compass. Stable, liquid-damped compass, with direct reading card, is mounted on finger-contoured, easy-grip handle. Lightweight impact resistant plastic, so light, it will float.

Speed and simplify chart work with the Chris-Craft Navigaide Protractor.

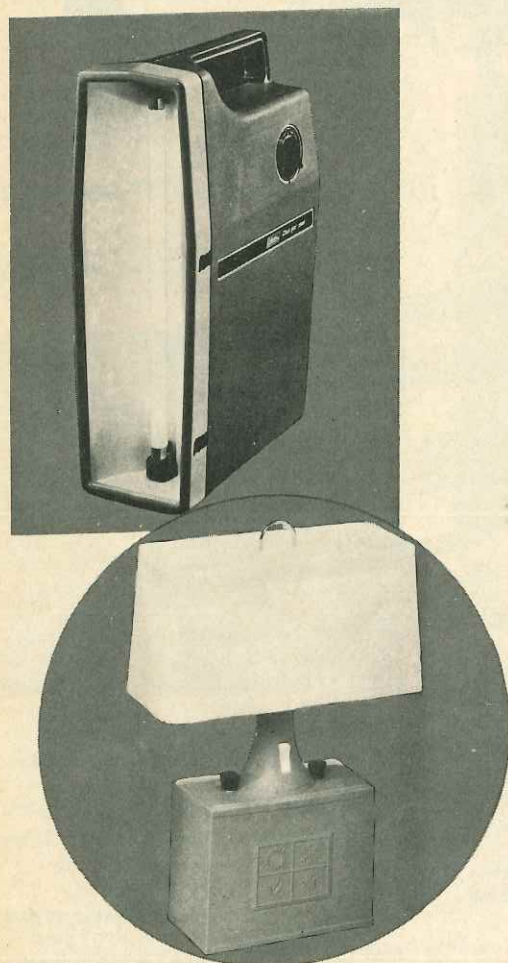

No need to wrack your memory about whether to add or subtract Easterly or Westerly variation—the Chris-Craft Navigaide Protractor solves it for you instantly by inspection. It provides, simultaneously, True and Magnetic readings on courses and bearings; you don't even have to orient the protractor to the chart compass rose. Setting any line of the protractor grid over a meridian or parallel instantly aligns the protractor, making it easy to use on any Small Craft Chart, or folded section of a standard chart without a compass rose showing—a handy feature when charting on a cramped surface or in an open cockpit. The protractor arm gives direct distance measurement, too, on the four most popular chart scales.

Let there be light.

Yes, plenty of light, in the cabin, the deckhouse, the cockpit, on a quiet beach at night, wherever you happen to be, with the Coleman Charger 3000, a new portable, fluorescent rechargeable lantern. Efficient 8-watt fluorescent tube gives light equivalent to a 60 watt incandescent bulb. Enough light for comfortable reading, for playing cards, for working, for cooking. Rechargeable battery is good for up to 3000 hours. Two settings: high gives 15-18 hours of light, low, 20 hours before recharging is necessary. Built-in recharger operates from 110-volt AC, or from car or boat 12-volt battery circuit; light also operates, by-passing built-in battery, on 12 or 110 volts. High impact ABS plastic case is shock resistant and impervious to rust and stains. 13 1/4" high x 8 7/8" long x 4 3/4" wide.

Bright light for sea or shore.

Safe, bright light at your command for reading, writing, cooking, or doing your navigational mathematics. It's cordless...you're not limited by the scope of a fixed power cord—you can use it in the cabin, in the cockpit, anywhere on deck...take it ashore for evening cookouts. Powered by a standard 6-volt lantern battery (not supplied). Lamp and shade are high quality, virtually unbreakable plastic.

If the polarity of your dockside outlet is OK, this Polarity Tester will tell you so—in so many letters.

And if it's not OK, it will give you specific warning of what's wrong, and help prevent electrical accidents and electrolysis damage to props, shafts, thru-hull fittings and other underwater boat metal. Simple to use:—just plug the Tester into the 15 or 20 amp, 125-volt circuit outlet. If polarity is correct and a ground exists, O and K light up brightly on tester. If wrong, O and X light. O alone means no ground and unknown polarity. No light means power off, or not reaching outlet. With supplied adapter, tester can also check non-grounding 2-slot outlets. Kit includes Polarity Tester, 2-slot outlet adapter and simple instructions. A valuable instrument for preserving your boat and your peace of mind.

This little Cordless Utility Lamp gives you extra light where you need it, when you need it—and you need no extra hand to hold it.

For reading charts in the cockpit, recipes in the galley, or probing for that malingering spark plug in the engine compartment, this handy little lamp brings you a bright welcome extra circle of light. With its useful range not limited by the length of a plug-in cord, it sets down securely on its own battery-weighted base; the arm extends to 9 inches and the adjustable reflector permits the light to be thrown exactly where required. Arm and reflector are chrome-finished, base is simulated leather. Powered by two 'C' cell flashlight batteries (not included).

The Sweeperette is designed to do a big clean-up job in small areas.

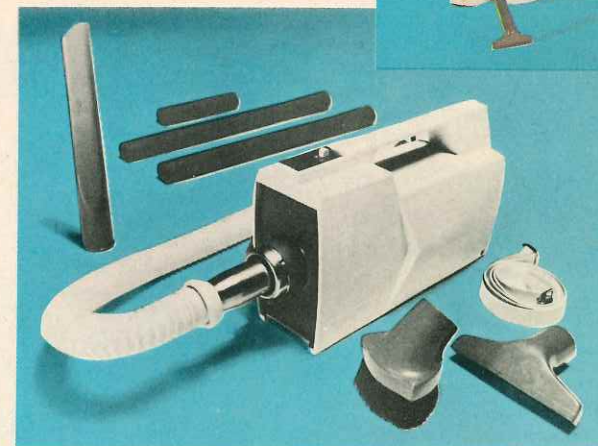

Perfect for carpeted cabins and deckhouses is the small but effective Sweeperette. Made by Bissel and the equal of its famous larger brothers in every respect but size, the Sweeperette's lively whisk-up brush action makes short work of picking up crumbs, sand, lint and small litter. And its small size (just 9" x 5 1/4" x 2 1/2") makes it just right for operating in narrow corners and passageways. Come-apart, 3-piece handle makes for easy storage in small space. Brass finish, with sturdy rubber bumpers and tires to protect cabin paint and brightwork.

Amazing Aqua Vac scoops up water and thrives on heavy solid dirt that would choke an ordinary vacuum cleaner.

The fantastic combination of industrial vacuum pick-up power, plus portability and the ability to drink up liquids makes Aqua Vac perfect for use around the boat, home, pool, patio, garage, or wherever heavy-duty dirt, wet or dry, needs lifting. Use it to dry decks or floors after a hosing, to clear wet mess from storm drains or boat scuppers, to tidy workshop floors—nails, stones, shavings, or wood chips, none of these are beyond Aqua-Vac's pick-up power. Specially coated, pigmented epoxy phenolic interior, rust resistant-steel drum features an automatic shut-off at 6 gallons liquid (8 gallons solid) insuring safety and clean operation. A big-wheel easy-glide dolly allows Aqua-Vac to trail easily after the hose. The by-pass heavy-duty air-cooled 1 h.p. motor is fully protected from water or moisture. Dimensions 18 3/8" (H) x 14" (Diam). Weighs 17 lbs. Comes with 8' grounded 3-wire cord and all accessories shown.

We've done it and we're glad—made up these fitted No-Iron Percale Sheets in stock sizes that really fit boat berths and bunks. You'll be glad, too.

A minor irritation of cruising life has been the no-fit bunk sheet, which is to say, the standard sized bed sheets which are all that have been available till now. We've studied the problem and come up with these Ship-Shape Fitted Boat Sheets—a practical answer to the problem of sleeping comfort afloat. Ours are fitted bottom sheets—customized to conform to curved as well as straight-edged mattresses without pulling out, bunching up, or trailing on the 'tween-berth cabin sole. Adjusto-strength corners make bunk making easy. And they're a fine no-iron percale weave of polyester and cotton that will bounce back from the washer/dryer ready for night after night of smooth freshness. Only in white. Fitted Bottom Sheets $6.95 ea. ②

- 4 Widths: (all for bunks 72-76" long)
#228. Narrow, for bunks 22-25" wide.
#229. Small, for bunks 26-29" wide.
#230. Medium, for berths 30-34" wide.
#231. Wide, for berths 35-39" wide.

Pretty soft. Pretty rugged. And pretty, to boot. Our velvety-smooth Aqualux Blankets will warm the cockles of any boatman's heart.

Think comfort. Think of the features you'd want in a boating blanket. They're yours in this Chris-Craft Aqualux. Light in weight, deep in warmth. Shed-proof, pill-proof, shrink-proof and non-allergenic. And it can take the kind of beating blankets take on a boat and come up like new, machine-washing after machine-washing. The Aqualux is made by an advanced new process of permanently bonding a plush nylon pile to both sides of a thin layer of polyurethane foam, creating a fabric, luxurious in look and feel, which combines highest thermal properties with great strength.

Finally—someone has come up with sleeping pillows designed in size and materials exclusively for boat use.

And we are pleased that that someone is us. The need being obvious, we've had made up these non-allergenic pillows of 100% Kodel 232 Fiberfill Polyester for carefree comfort afloat. The compact 17" x 23" finished size is big enough for sleeping comfort, yet small enough to stay on even narrow bunks at night, and to stow away easily during the day. The Kodel Fiberfill is pleasantly resilient, completely non-allergenic, can't absorb moisture, won't get musty or mildew. The covering is solid color light blue cotton. And, yes, they're completely washable. Sold in pairs only. #997. Boat Pillows pair $9.50 ⑤

Now you can enjoy the luxury of Custom-Fitted Sheets on problem-shape boat berths—curved, tapered, and even forward 'V'.

We can provide the one perfect solution to the problem of linens for odd-shaped bunks and berths aboard a boat—custom-fitted sheets, individually made up to your specification. The solution isn't cheap, because these sheets are all individually hand sewed to your own patterns, and we use only the finest no-iron, high count percale blend. But your berths will be much easier to make up, they will look better, and feel better. And since the sheets won't pull out, you'll probably sleep better too. To order, just send us a paper pattern of the top of the mattress and tell us the thickness. Allow 3-4 weeks.

Combine warmth, comfort and all seagoing materials—subtract the daytime stowage problem—and you have the Chris-Craft Sleeping Bag for boats.

Made entirely of synthetic materials to combat mildew and mustiness, the cover is blue nylon, the insulation two pounds of extra-warm, allergy-free 100% Polyester (you'll rarely need a blanket). Measuring 31" x 77" it is, of course, interchangeable for use on either port or starboard bunks. And for waking hours, it rolls smoothly and compactly into its zippered, blue vinyl storage bag which doubles as a 31" bunk bolster.

Non-Skid Place Mats—a good idea we've borrowed from the airlines. (It's an even better idea for boats.)

We can think of no better aid to a relaxed meal afloat than these non-slip place mats, which minimize the peril of spilled food and shattered crockery. Made of a special formula, paper-thin polystyrene, these remarkable mats cling to the table surface below, and to the cups, dishes, glassware on top—they'll keep objects from sliding on an incline of as much as 40°...even water and grease won't affect their gripping ability. Decorative as well as functional, their “Power-and-Sail” motif, printed in dark blue on the sky blue mat, add a nice nautical note to any table setting. Inexpensive enough to be disposable, yet sturdy enough to be re-usable, they're practical, too, for lining refrigerator shelves, or to keep lamps, ash trays, and other ship's gear from sliding. Size 10 1/4" x 14 3/4".

Two-faced grill cooks on the up-and-up.

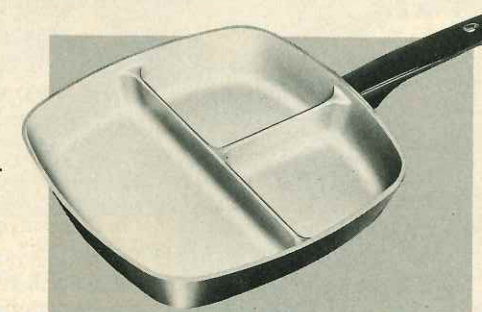

It's a cook's tour-de-force! This one versatile utensil does the work of two—it grills, bakes, fries or broils. Ribbed side broils steak, hamburgers, chops, chicken, fish to perfection. The high ridges quickly sear the meats to retain the flavor while the fat drains into the channel below. Flip it to flat side for pancakes, eggs, etc. Made of heavy-duty cast aluminum, it measures 10 5/8" x 11 1/4", cooks on a single galley burner and stows in negligible space.

#766. Two-Side Griddle $7.95 ⑤

A small thing, but useful—the better Ice Pick.

How better? For one thing, the blade is stainless steel. Non-rusting, non-tarnishing. Second, its high-impact, blue plastic handle is shaped so that it won't roll when set down. Third, it comes with a stainless steel bulkhead mounting bracket to keep it handy. And fourth,—a safety feature—its own snug sheath to keep the sharp point from nicking ship or crew.

#376. Stainless Ice Pick, with bracket and sheath $2.50 ①

One burner does the work of three, with Tri-Fri in your galley.

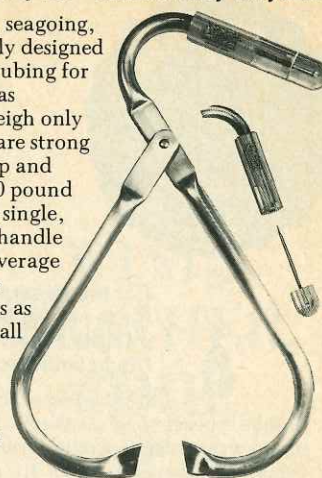

Short order cooking becomes two-thirds shorter...Tri-Fri pan cooks three different foods at one time over a single burner of your galley stove. Saves time, saves fuel, saves space—and when mealtime is over there's only one pan to clean instead of three. And that's easier, too, because Tri-Fri Pan is fully Teflon Coated. Made of even heating, non-warping cast aluminum, 9 3/4" square x 1 3/4" deep, with oven-proof handle.

#661. Teflon Tri-Fri Pan $11.95 ④

If you have to carry ice—make it easy for yourself.

Use these sturdy, seagoing, ice tongs. Cleverly designed of stainless steel tubing for lightness as well as strength, they weigh only 1 1/2 pounds, yet are strong enough to pick up and securely grip a 50 pound block of ice. The single, easy grip plastic handle gives excellent leverage and balance; the handle also serves as a sheath for a small but functional stainless steel ice pick.

#563. Stainless Ice Tongs $8.95 ②

How nice for ice.

These handsome contemporary design ice buckets, by the makers of our Max I and Max II dinnerware, will serve with distinction afloat or ashore. Holds 3 1/2 quarts of ice; efficient insulation keeps it frozen for hours. Made of rugged melamine, in color choice of Yellow, White, Orange, Chocolate.

For the fisherman...
for the small boat pilot—
a Depth Finder that fits in your pocket.

It's the Water Ruler, a unique, pocket-sized mechanical depth sounder that offers all outdoorsmen—fishermen, boatmen, scuba divers—a sensibly priced alternative to electronic depth finders, as well as a reliable back up/calibration device for presently installed equipment. Constructed of tough corrosion resistant materials, Water Ruler provides quick and accurate depth indications to 45 feet on its numerical register dial. Rewinds quickly and simply as twirling a telephone dial.

Our new Fender Tender
puts your fenders exactly where needed.

Here's the quick and easy new way to attach fenders. No screws, no holes to drill in deck or topsides and no shin or finger-catching hooks. With our new Fender Tender you can instantly hang your fenders at just the right place along your hull on life lines, toe rails, or cleats—and adjust to proper height in a jiffy, without tying or untying messy knots. Made of rugged white plastic, Fender Tender will take fender lines up to 3/8" in diameter.

This Marine Maintenance Kit won't make necessary scrubdowns a pleasure. But it will do the job faster, easier and better.

It's specifically designed for cleaning boats. For example, the brush has flared bristles and a protective white rubber bumper around the block so that you can get into corners and other hard-to-reach places without marring the sidewalls. The mop, of super-absorbent white rayon cords will hold up in salt or fresh water, and dries quickly. The two-piece removable handle makes for space saving stowage, increases versatility, too—you can use it without handle, or with just a half-handle.

Anchors are not for dragging; topsides are not for marring. This Vinyl-Covered Chain protects you against both.

Your boat will ride to her anchor more comfortably and more securely when you have a length of chain between the ring and the anchor line. The added weight cushions surges, and helps prevent anchor "breakouts" by keeping the angle of pull along a more nearly horizontal plane. Ours does the job with no danger of scarring gunwales or decks when the anchor is put over or raised. Made up in 6-foot lengths of rust-proof, hot-dip galvanized 3/16" chain, each link is snugly encased in a tight bond of smooth, heavy vinyl—in a handsome deep blue that adds a welcome touch of color to the foredeck. Oversize coated end links take anchor shackles nicely.

Our new Air Horn always works—even when your air pack poops out.

You never run out of power with our new portable air horn. Unlike all others, this unique dual power horn works even when the air pack is empty. Simply use button as a mouth piece, take a deep breath and blow! Made of corrosion-free Cyclocac, powered by Freon gas cylinder good for hundreds of piercing blasts with a range of well over a mile. Non-toxic, non-flammable Freon cylinder can be removed from the horn at any time, without losing a drop of its propellant charge. Meets U.S.C.G. requirements as horn for classes A, I, II, III.

Keep your Air Horn at the ready in this convenient Air Horn Caddy.

When you're on a collision course in a narrow channel there is no time to start scrabbling through stuffed lockers for your Air Horn. Keep it handy on the bulkhead or gunnel in this specifically designed Air Horn Caddy. Made of durable Cyclocac, it is completely removable when not in use, slipping off, and leaving just a small, flat bulkhead bracket. Or leave it on and use it as a drink holder when the anchor's down.

Wind speed, wind direction, wind shifts often foretell weather changes. You can know even before you step out of your house.

Wind and weather are fascinating subjects of study, and of special interest to the boatman, whose sport is so profoundly affected by them. These matching Cape Cod instruments are moderately priced and precision built for years of service and enjoyment, winter and summer, in the yachtman's home.

The Wind Speed Indicator sensitively registers every lull, every gust from dead calm to 100 mph, on the handsome 6" dial. Spinning cupwheel on the roofpeak or TV mast transmits the reading to the instrument inside your home. Comes with 50 ft. of lead wire. 5-year guarantee.

#268. Cape Cod Wind Speed Indicator $99.95 ④

The Wind Direction Indicator flashes the directional reading by lighting up the appropriate compass points on the decorative silver dial of the polished brass instrument. Comes with wind vane for rooftop mounting, 50 feet of wire, and 5-year guarantee.

V-Tip Telescoping Boat Hook for double action, double security.

A giant step forward for the lowly, but necessary boat hook. The double prong V-head grabs with both hooks simultaneously, making retrieval of mooring pennants, or any objects from the water surer and easier. Also safer, much less likely to slip than the conventional single-tipped boat hook when fending off. The rugged 1" aluminum pole telescopes, with a positive locking feature that lets you use it as an 8-foot hook, as a 3½-footer, or any length in between. Heavy plastic vinyl sheath on the business end gives welcome assurance against gouging or scraping of hull or brightwork. And of course, the telescoping feature makes it much easier to carry about the decks, and to stow.

A HOST OF HELPERS

Water, water everywhere? No—just where you want it.

New heavy duty Aqua-Gun Hose Nozzle gives you up to 39 different flow patterns from fine mist to jet stream. Just squeeze the trigger for any spray—locks into position with a flick of the thumb. And delivers 20% more water flow. Exclusive 2-part handle construction of non-rusting chrome-plated zinc and unbreakable Cyclac separates water flow from insulated hand grip, allowing for comfortable spraying of ice cold or boiling hot water. Guaranteed 5 full years.

#3316. Aqua-Gun Nozzle $6.95 ①

At long last there is a marine water hose you can live with. Ours becomes flat when the pressure is off—stores in 1/3 the space.

Easier to get along with a number of other ways, too; it rolls up quickly and smoothly in a single strand coil—won't twist or kink like ordinary hoses. And because it automatically drains itself when the water is off, it's lighter to carry and there's nothing left to dribble onto your ankles, or into the locker when you're putting it away. And this is a hose you'll never have to replace—it's reinforced with nylon truck tire cord, and as tough as any made. It won't burst even if shut off at the nozzle and left in the sun under full water pressure; will remain super-flexible, even in zero weather. Special white vinyl construction is non-toxic, for safe delivery of drinking water. 5/8" diameter for ample flow, solid brass couplings. 50 ft. length.

Yacht Medical Pac...

Yacht Medical Pac has been designed by a marine consultant and assembled by a licensed pharmacist to meet the exacting requirements of the marine environment. It is so comprehensive that it must be classified as something more than just a first-aid kit—as a complete seagoing medicine chest to be exact. Each Yacht Medical Pac contains over 220 individual items—first aid equipment and selected high quality pharmaceuticals for the emergency relief of nausea, diarrhea, heat fatigue, dizziness, eye strain, shock, poisoning, and other maladies. High impact polystyrene case is water tight, unsinkable, sealed against airborne contaminants and impervious to water and salt spray.

#987. Yacht Medical Pac $64.95 (10)

Our First Aid Kits are watertight, they'll float, and their contents are specially selected to go to sea.

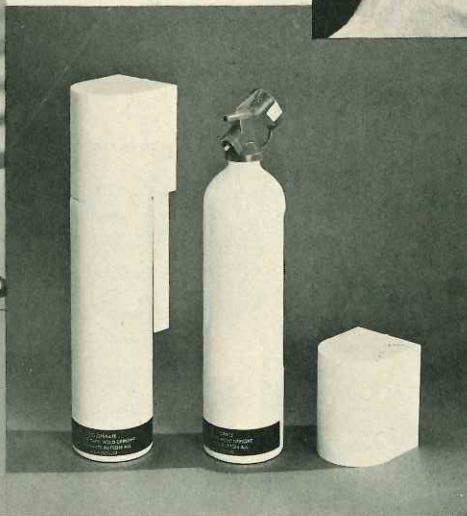

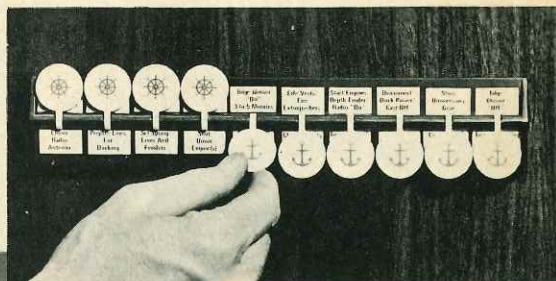

No less an authority on seagoing safety than the U.S. Coast Guard has specified construction and contents of kits approved for lifeboat service. The larger of our two First Aid Kits, with its heavy duty case, and contents assembled in accordance with U.S.C.G. Specification 160.041/2/0, carries that approval. Individual dressings and treatments are separately sealed and placed in 'see-thru' boxes; thus, after use, there are no unprotected leftovers to become soggy or contaminated. The smaller Cruiser Kit, in its watertight, floatable plastic case, contains nearly all of the same selection of unit-packed items as the Coast Guard approved kit, but in lesser quantities.

#274. Cruiser Kit (10 unit-packs in watertight plastic case $17.50 (2))

Here's a fire extinguisher you won't want to hide—so chances are it'll be handy whenever—and wherever—you may need to use it.

Fire safety begins at home, so here's the Xtinguisher, as handsome as it is functional, to bring added security to your home, your place of business, your boat—and less likely to be hidden in a drawer, or closet or other inaccessible place when needed. Contemporary in design, available in color choice of white or yellow, this 2½ lb. dry chemical unit is UL rated 5 B:C. It puts out oil, grease and electrical fires and is guaranteed for five years. Just pull it from the wall, the molded plastic top flies off, and it's ready to use. (Note: While the Xtinguisher is fully Underwriters Laboratory approved, and equal in rating and fire killing power to similar sized units, because of its molded plastic mounting bracket it does not have Coast Guard certification. Hence, for boating use, the Xtinguisher, while providing valuable supplementary protection for areas where conventional extinguishers might not be mounted, is not meant as a replacement for C.G. certified units.)

Winchester Rescue Signal Launcher Kit.

Since early in this century, the Very Pistol has saved countless lives. Its mechanism was so rugged and dependable that people knew they could depend on it. Now the Winchester Launcher has taken that same sturdy mechanism, updated and made it more versatile. The new Launcher can fire both 25mm and with a special insert convertor, economical 12-gauge meteor flares to an eye-commanding height, visible for many miles. Corrosion resistant, with sure-grip handle colored International Orange Distress Flag, all in a water-tight, child-proof plastic leather-look case that floats. Even if you never have to use it, which we sincerely hope, it's a great investment in peace of mind.

New SOS Solid Oxygen System...

This new emergency inhalator system delivers life-saving oxygen at fingertip command. For emergency use. And for people with respiratory and pulmonary problems. Easy to carry, and to keep handy anywhere—at home, on the boat, in the car, or traveling—the SOS system consists of a dispenser, about the size of a binoculars case, which holds three 12-oz. disposable canisters of a solid material which readily converts to oxygen at the touch of a button. Attractive and lightweight, the complete system weighs only 4½ pounds. Each canister develops 60 liters of oxygen, and when two buttons are pushed simultaneously, the unit produces a flow of 8 liters per minute. Meets F.D.A. requirements for flow and duration. Replacement canisters can be inserted in seconds to maintain the availability of oxygen as long as required. No danger, as with high-pressure gaseous or liquid oxygen cylinders of leakage, explosion or fire. Unit consists of SOS Oxygen Dispenser, oxygen mask, flow indicator and operating instructions. Oxygen Canisters are sold separately, in six-pack units.

Smile—you're on the radar screen! This compact, folding Radar Reflector will let the big ships know you're there, even in fog or at night.

At times it does pay to be conspicuous—and most especially in a zero-visibility situation at sea. That's when this little Radar Reflector can prove to be inexpensive insurance and a great contribution to peace of mind. Its reflective surfaces, scientifically arranged in three perpendicular planes, will pinpoint your boat on the scopes of radar equipped vessels up to 10 miles away. In possible emergency situations, too, it may enable searching ships or aircraft to spot you much more quickly than otherwise. Made of special plastic-metal foil laminate, the Radar Reflector stows flat when not in use. When needed, it pops open and may be rigged in seconds.

Rain, spray, even solid green water, hold no more terrors for these water-resistant Yachting Timers and Stop Watches than for the hardy mariners who carry them.

These modestly priced Swiss timers, with sealed bezels and tough Cyclocac cases, are fully water-resistant, shock-resistant, anti-magnetic and self-compensating. All come with nylon neck lanyard and protective vinyl pouch.

Yachting Timer has a long sweep hand that completes one turn in 60 seconds, indicating seconds remaining. The offset red hand covers fifteen minutes over 3 different-colored 5-minute segments which indicate, respectively, Warning, Preparatory, and Start.

Simply put, the Cronus I is the most accurate stopwatch in the world. And the most accurate executive desk clock as well. Period.

The most accurate because it's all solid state electronic with a quartz crystal movement accurate to 0.001% and with no moving parts to go out of adjustment. It's virtually four stopwatches in one...Standard Stop/Start, Taylor, Split, and Event/Time-Out functions allow you to clock virtually anything from a sailing regatta or sports car rally to industrial or scientific studies with timing range to a full 24 hours. And no chance of inaccurate readings—Cronus I gives you bright, digital readouts to the hundredth of a second. Instantly. Weighing just 6 ounces in its water-resistant, breakproof case, it fits easily in your hand or pocket, and when slipped into the handsome Executive base, the electronic digital stopwatch becomes a desktop or portable 24-hour clock and chronometer, registering the precise time of day to the second. And at the same time automatically recharging its permanent nickel-cadmium batteries. Complete with Executive base, leather carrying case, lanyard, recharger, and 2-year warranty.

#3657. Cronus I $225.00 ④

Also available as Cronus II, electronic stopwatch only, that features the same quartz crystal accuracy as Cronus I (to 1/100th of a second) the 4 timing modes and a measuring range of 59 minutes, 59.99 seconds. Operates on disposable AA penlite batteries (not rechargeable). With lanyard, and 2-year warranty.

Presenting the Incredible Time Machine—an electronic calculator that's a clock... a calendar... a stopwatch... and a timer that beeps like crazy when the alarm goes off. This is probably the most sophisticated desktop electronics unit available today. Incredible? You'd better believe it.

Consider the calculator. All solid state components. Large, clear 8-digit readout. Full floating decimal. Add, subtract, multiply, divide or do complicated chain or mixed calculations in a fraction of the time you've been spending. And speaking of time, just push a button and your calculator becomes a digital clock, a clock that keeps working even when other functions are in use. Advanced solid state electronic circuitry assures accuracy to within seconds per year. But that's not all. This Incredible Time Machine is a calendar, too, a pre-programmed fully electronic digital display calendar that automatically updates itself through long months and short months without resetting. And if you're always forgetting important dates, two special storage units will save them for you and display them at the touch of a key. Want to time your telephone calls? Or find out how long those "ten minute" meetings really last? The interval timer can tell you with stopwatch precision. Count up. Or count down. And if you've got a plane to catch or a deadline you can't miss, just set the quiet beep-beep alarm. Fast, efficient, handsome—designed with aerospace technology to achieve maximum function in minimum space, the Incredible Time Machine is easy to use. There are no hidden switches or controls. All functions are entered through the keyboard. And unlike most calculators it's never idle.

Use it at the office. At home. For study. For almost anything that involves time or numbers. And for the man or woman who "has everything", this offers a lot more. Only 6 1/2" diameter, weight just 2 1/2 pounds. 110V AC.

Olympic yachtsmen's chronograph.

It's Memosail, a fine water-resistant wrist watch that's also one of the most functional yachting timers made. At the start, when there are plenty of things to occupy the racing skipper's mind, a fleeting glance at Memosail's digital display gives him an unmistakable reading of the final 10-minute countdown. The first 10-5 minute section is displayed in yellow numerals, and the final 5-0 minute section changes to red. The last minute is counted down on the bright orange sweep hand; at the exact starting time the last 1/2 minute red digit vanishes, leaving the word "START" in the window. More, however, than just an investment for 10 minutes before the race. Memosail serves full time, in the boat and out, as a handsome 17-jewel time-of-day wrist watch, with Incabloc shockproofing, inside a water-tight case—tested to 100 feet depth. Full year warranty.

Like a watchman making his rounds, automatic Time-all turn lights, radio and TV on and off in your home.

Police and insurance officials state that a lighted, lived-in home is a major deterrent to burglars. And here, in a decorator piece is an electronic watchman to give your home that lived-in look when you're away. This most sophisticated and decorative of automatic home timers is styled in the true antique tradition of a classic Bombay tea caddy/spice box, in antique walnut-finish plastic with distressed woodgrain highlights. Its cord set timer can be programmed to turn lights on and off automatically, once, twice or more times in each 24 hour period—just as though you were there. Comes with 2 ON and 2 OFF trippers, outlet and 5 ft. cord at back, with cord storage chamber in base of chest.
